The University of Detroit Mercy Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology program has been preparing students to function as masters-level psychologists for over 20 years. Graduates of our program are eligible for Michigan limited licensure as psychologists upon completing post degree supervised practice. Students may elect to specialize in either Addiction Studies or Child Clinical Psychology.

Career Opportunities

Graduates may find employment in hospitals, outpatient clinics, crisis intervention centers, other mental health settings, or correctional facilities. A survey of recent UDM graduates found 100 percent employment among those seeking full-time work in the mental health field. A number of graduates have also gone on to doctoral training in psychology, both in Michigan and throughout the United States.

Program Description

The program offers training in the full range of basic theory and research, diagnostic techniques, therapeutic practices, and ethical concerns.

Students not only receive advanced training in the foundations of psychology but also develop specialized skill in assessment and therapeutic techniques of clinical psychology, and ethical decision making in mental health care. Training in research methods enables students to become discriminating consumers of the professional literature, which in turn, enables them to keep abreast of developments in their field after graduation.

In addition to a central core in clinical psychology, students will elect to concentrate in either Addiction Studies or Child Clinical Psychology. The specialization will provide the students with expertise in working with these important populations. The opportunity to specialize at the master's level increases the marketability of University of Detroit Mercy students. We have selected these specializations because we believe our faculty has particular expertise and depth in these areas, and because we believe these specializations address two areas of significant need within the field of psychology.

Another important resource, which the Master of Arts program in clinical psychology at the University of Detroit Mercy offers to students, is the wealth of practicum opportunities from which our students can choose. We have existing agreements with a number of clinical training sites throughout the greater Detroit metropolitan area, which include hospital based clinics, child and adolescent treatment programs, community mental health centers, university counseling centers, and correctional facilities. Each student is required to complete at least a 500-hour practicum at one of these facilities as part of his or her training.

The program's total 45 credit hours can be completed in two years full-time participation, or three years part-time participation. All courses are offered in the evening to accommodate working students. Students, in this program are expected to attend classes year-round.

Application Procedures

Applicants who wish to be considered for admission to the program should submit the following material:

- 1) A current application for Graduate Admission to the University of Detroit Mercy, along with the $30.00, non-refundable, application fee.

International Students: Individuals who are presently neither U.S. citizens or bona fide permanent residents should request an application from the International Services Office. For more information please write University of Detroit Mercy, International Services Office, Detroit, MI 48221-3038 or telephone (313) 993-1207, Fax (313) 993-1192 or e-mail coddinsm@udmercy.edu or visit the office on-line by going through the University's web site.

- 2) Complete official transcripts mailed directly from the registrar of all colleges attended, including the University of Detroit Mercy. If you were previously a UDM student, please request transcripts early as this may take some time.
- 3) Three letters of recommendation from professors, supervisors, or others who can speak to your professional or academic abilities. (The form for these letters is included in this packet).
- 4) A brief essay from you describing your background, previous employment, interest, and reasons for choosing the Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology program at UDM. Please include telephone numbers where you may be reached during the day and evening at the bottom of your essay.
- 5) You must take the general aptitude sections of the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) and have your scores sent to us. The psychology subject test is not required. You may obtain information about the GRE at www.gre.org, or by calling either 1-609-771-7670 or 1-800-GRE-CALL.

The application deadline is March 31 for admission to the fall semester. Applications filed after March 31 may receive fall semester consideration at the Admission Committee's discretion.

*All applicants should also complete the two-page application supplement, which is included in this packet.
