Hygienist heads board

WARREN — Jane Halaris, RDH, a longtime Macomb County resident, has been elected chairperson of the Michigan Board of Dentistry.

Halaris is past president of the Michigan Dental Hygienists Association (MDHA), past president of the Macomb Dental Hygienists Society and former governmental affairs liaison for the MDHA. She was recently appointed to the American Dental Hygienists Association Council on Regulation and Practice.

A dental hygienist in Macomb County for most of her career, Halaris graduated from Ferris State University and completed her bachelor of science degree at University of Detroit Mercy. She currently is adjunct faculty at UDM, an examiner for the Northeast Regional Board and in private practice in Warren.

The Michigan Board of Dentistry is a 19-member board comprising dentists, dental hygienists and dental assistants. It is responsible for overseeing the education, licensing and discipline of more than 18,350 professionals, 9,400 of whom are registered dental hygienists.
