

Three local attorneys named Honigman partners

Honigman, Miller, Schwartz, and Cohn LLP has announced the election of nine attorneys to partner, effective Jan. 1.

Three of the attorneys are Ann Arbor residents including Jennifer Sheehan Anderson, Bradley Darling, and Christopher Korvun.

Anderson is a partner in the firm's Corporate and Securities Department where she provides legal and business guidance on a wide range of non-contentious and contentious intellectual property matters.

Anderson's areas of concentration include trademark, copyright, e-commerce and patent matters with an emphasis on the protection, enforcement and management of brands in the U.S. and internationally.

Anderson is a graduate of the University of Detroit Mercy Law School.

Bradley H. Darling is a partner in the firm's Litigation Department where he concentrates his practice on commercial law.

Darling has state and federal

Anderson

trial court experience, which includes arguing numerous discovery motions; e-discovery practice; arguing motions involving standing, jurisdiction, venue, statute of limitations, injunctive relief, compelling of discovery, dischargeability in bankruptcy, sanctions, offers of judgment, default judgments, post-judgment collections; and motions to strike and exclude evidence. Darling graduated from the University of Michigan Law School.

Darling

Kristopher P. Korvun is a partner in the firm's Real Estate Department where he represents lenders and borrowers in the multifamily financing arenas and has specific experience with Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and securitized transactions.

Korvun

He has successfully closed retail, industrial and office transactions, including development, purchase, sale and leasing transactions, located in Michigan, around the United States and in Mexico. Korvun graduated magna cum laude from the University of Detroit Mercy Law School.