

MICHIGAN PRESS
READING SERVICE

126 S. Putman, Williamston, Mich. 48895

MUSKEGON CHRONICLE

MUSKEGON, MI

CIRC 2,567

357

JULY 8 2007

Candice Broussard, daughter of Paul and Lisa Broussard, was active in National Honor Society and on the tennis and track teams. She plans to enter the physician-assistant program at the University of Detroit-Mercy.

Aja Nash, daughter of Charles and Maria Nash, is president of National Honor Society and was a three-year MVP in cross-country. She also was first chair violin for the Symphonic Orchestra. She plans to study medicine and life sciences at Hope College.

Emilee Wissner, daughter of Randy and Pam Wissner, was in National Honor Society and Student Leadership Council. She also played varsity soccer. She plans to study dental hygiene at Muskegon Community College and then transfer to Ferris State University or

Grand Rapids Community College.

Sandra Holt, daughter of Bonnie Willis, was in National Honor Society, Student Leadership Council and played varsity tennis. She plans to study business and journalism at Michigan State University.

Katie VanderLeest, daughter of Gordon and Denise VanderLeest, was secretary of Student Leadership Council, was in National Honor Society and played varsity tennis. She plans to study pharmacy at Ferris State University.

Nathan Ruud, son of Randy Ruud and Missy Ruud, was in marching band and played tennis and soccer. He plans to study chemistry at Hope College.

Diane Rutter, daughter of James and April Rutter, was vice president of National Honor Society and in Student Leadership Council. She also played tennis, volleyball and softball. She plans to study advertising and business at Michigan State University.

Kevin Cooper, son of Rick and Darlynn Cooper, was in National Honor Society and played soccer and baseball. He plans to study medicine in college.

Erica Scott, daughter of the late Eric Lee Scott and Anita Louise Scott, was in National Honor Society and played tennis. She plans to attend Baker College to study massage therapy.

Arion Franklin, son of Zachary and Margaret Johnson, was in National Honor Society, Student Leadership Council and Y.E.S. Choir. He plans to study biomedical sciences at Grand Valley State University.