3 Catholic Men Meet

5 Over 3,000 men are expected to gather in prayer and fellowship at 7 the sixth annual Catholic Conference for Men on Saturday, April 12, at University of Detroit Mercy's Calihan Hall. "Brothers in Christ Standing Together" is the theme of the event, titled "Put Out into the Deep VI."

"Our goal is to spark interest in Christian fellowship among men, which can strengthen a man's relationship with Christ and make him a better example to his family, friends and fellow employees," said Paco Gavrilides, director of the Office for Evangelization of the Archdiocese of Detroit, sponsor of the event.

The program will include a one-man performance of St. Maximilian Kolbe by actor and playwright Leonardo Defilippis; and a presentation about the strength to overcome sin by Kenneth Henderson, founder of the True Knights International Apostolate.

Cardinal Adam Maida, archbishop of Detroit, will celebrate Mass at 2:30 p.m. with Detroit Auxiliary Bishop Daniel Flores as homilist.

Advance registration is $40 per person, including lunch. Tickets will be available at the door for $50 per person. For information, visit www.AODonline.org or call (313)
