The announcement was made through the Catholic Diocese of Columbus Tuesday.

Zanders will start his term as principal with the start of the 2008-2009 school year.

Current Principal Richard Smith said he would finish out this past school year before resigning. He notified the Diocese of his intentions to leave in mid-March and the Diocese has been searching for a new principal since. He was principal of the school for four years.

Zanders is a native of Shadyside, graduating from Shadyside High School. He earned a bachelor's degree from West Liberty State College in W. Va., a master's degree in guidance and counseling from West Virginia University and a master's degree in educational administration from the University of Detroit.

He's received the Buckeye Association of School Administrators Exemplary Education Leadership Award and the Ohio School Boards Association Educational Leadership Award.

He serves as a member of the Ohio High School Athletic Association controlling board.

"Mr. Zanders' many years of experience as a teacher, counselor, principal and superintendent demonstrate his dedication to children and their education," said Lucia D. McQuaide, diocesan superintendent of Catholic Schools in a news release. "The Catholic community of Zanesville and Rosecrans High School are blessed to welcome him and we look forward to working together with him."

The St. Clairsville-Richland City School District consists of an elementary school, a middle school and a high school.
