

International Baccalaureate (IB) Transfer Guide

The International Baccalaureate (IB) Organization's Diploma Program enables students who have pursued college-level studies in high school to receive college credit based on their performance on IB examinations. Students are expected to take IB courses from a secondary educational institution accredited by the IB Organization. Students do not need to complete the IB Diploma to receive credit.

Minimum score for credit: 4 (unless otherwise noted) on any Higher Level (HL) IB examination.

Equivalencies: Below is a list of the subject areas for IB exams with specific information about course equivalencies, scores needed for credit, and the number of credits awarded. Where a specific Detroit Mercy course is not listed, IB scores generate elective credit. Depending upon a student's program, the credits awarded from IB may or may not fulfill degree requirements. HL subjects not listed can be reviewed for potential credit.

Maximum Credit Award through Examination – A maximum of 30 credits may be earned through a combination of IB, AP, CLEP and DSST examinations. A student may not receive both AP and IB credit for the same course.
