The Post Master’s Certificate Family Nurse Practitioner program prepares the graduate to provide comprehensive healthcare services, including diagnosis, management, and health promotion to adults, children and families. Focal points of the program include practice models, which emphasize leadership, team-based care, collaboration, quality and safety. Graduates of the program are eligible to sit for the national FNP specialty certification examination administered by the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) or American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (AANPCP).

Career Opportunities
In 2018, the median nurse practitioner salary was $107,000. The 10 year outlook for nurse practitioners shows a 26% increase (much faster than average). For many Americans, nurse practitioners are the provider of choice and their numbers continue to grow rapidly.
