Plan Administrator Q & A

How do our employees utilize their benefits?

New members who provide a valid email address on their legal plan application will receive an electronic version of the LegalShield Member Guide and will receive their membership cards by mail. Employees enrolling in the legal plan without a valid email will get a Membership Guide and Membership Cards at their address shortly after enrolling. The guide includes a membership contract, Will preparation documents, and other information regarding use of their membership. The Provider Law Firm's telephone numbers will be listed on the membership cards. Members may call the Provider Attorney during regular business hours when assistance is needed. Identity theft plan members, can log in at www.MyIDShield.com to review benefits and activate identity theft membership services. Membership cards will follow by mail. Note: Spanish members completing a spanish application will receive a printed version of the member guide.

How do I add a new employee to the plan?

New employees that wish to enroll in the LegalShield or Identity Theft Plan must complete a membership application either on paper or electronically. (Retain the payroll deduction authorization for your records on paper applications). Applications(s) should be given to your LegalShield Group Servicing Agent to be mailed in to our corporate office for processing. If your company has opted for a web enrollment site that is developed and maintained by LegalShield, you may enroll employees through your LegalShield site. Or, if you prefer you may provide the link for the site directly to your employees so that they may enroll themselves. You will access the site using a link provided to you by LegalShield Corporate Office. For electronic enrollment information please contact Group Resources at Elecenroll@LegalShieldCorp.com.

Are LegalShield and identity Theft plans post-tax or pre-tax benefits?

Our benefits are considered post-tax deductions.

How do I discontinue an enrollees benefit?

If an enrollee has left employment or requests to cancel, you notate the change on your invoice by filling in the proper status code for the member. You may also send us an email to groupbilling@legalshield.com. Please notify us within the first month in which a member is no longer an active enrollee in the LegalShield benefit.

Is the benefit portable?

Yes. We will contact any members when we are notified of the change in their status. A member will have the opportunity to continue their coverage at the group rate and may choose a payment method best suited to their needs.

What do I need to send in with our payment?

Please return a reconciled copy of the invoice that balances with the amount being paid. If you have a printout of the payroll deductions that balances with your payment, send a copy to ensure correct application of that payment. Payments received that are not properly reconciled may delay processing. The most common form of payment is by check, however, other payment options are available.

What period does my invoice cover?

LegalShield bills on a monthly basis for the current month. All memberships that were active at the time the invoice was generated will be listed on your invoice for that month.

What if an employee enrolls after I have already received my invoice for the current month?

Once LegalShield receives that employee's application, we will process the application within 24-48 hours. If the employee is to be effective for the current month, they will appear on your next invoice twice. The first listing will be under the current month's amount due and the second listing will be under the "Members effective prior month(s) and did not appear on invoice noted" section.

What if an enrollee listed on my invoice is not to be paid?

If an enrollee is not to be paid on your invoice, simply mark through the enrollee's amount due and update the status code. Once the update is processed, it will be reflected on your next invoice. The enrollee will be listed in the "Following Memberships have been removed since your last invoice" section of the invoice.
